NO NEWS OF THE ATLANTA. National Associated Press to the Star.

LONDON, May 10.—The Channel squadron has arrived at Bantling, but brings no news of the training ship Atlanta.

ILLNESS OF ELLIOTT. Elliott, the carman, is ill and confined to his bed. He has stopped his training, and it is feared that he will not be able to participate in the Hop Bitters contest.

TO STUMP THE UNITED STATES. DUBLIN, May 10.—Messrs. Davitt and Sheridan called yesterday from Queens-town for New York. They will stump the United States, including California. It is believed that Mr. Parnell will join them when Parliament has been prorogued.

THE AMERICANS ABROAD. LONDON, May 10.—A recent letter from Minister Lowell, dated at Biarritz, says his wife is somewhat worse, but hopes to be able to travel. He intends to start with her to-morrow and reach London by way of Havre and Southampton before the 17th instant, when his leave of absence expires.

Bret Harte, since the Royal Academy dinner, at which his speech was only moderately successful, has made a brief visit to Glasgow and returned to London, where he is much lionized as the guest of Lord Granville, the Duke of St. Albans, and Mr. Frodus. He returns to Crefeld to close up the consulate there, intending then to come back to London for the remainder of the month.

GREENWOOD'S NEW GAZETTE. Mr. Greenwood, within forty-eight hours after his retirement from the Pall Mall, received offers exceeding half a million dollars to establish a new journal. Politicians, horse-guardsmen, financiers, judges and others in high social positions were among the subscribers. The arrangements are nearly completed, and the papers will probably appear within a few days. The name is still uncertain, but the form, typography and general features will be similar to those of the Gazette, with some improvements.

NEW AMBASSADOR TO TURKEY. It is announced officially that Rt. Hon. George Goschen, the recently appointed special Ambassador to Turkey, will proceed to Constantinople, leaving London next Monday, the 17th. He will travel via France and Italy, and will, on May 23d, embark at Venice on Her Majesty's ship Haloon.

TURKEY. ALBANIAN INDEPENDENCE. VIENNA, May 10.—The Albanians have proclaimed their independence.

FRANCE. APPOINTMENT AND DEATH. PARIS, May 10.—M. De Crails has been appointed Ambassador of France to Brussels. M. Gustave Planteret died at Rouen yesterday.

TERRIBLE POWDER EXPLOSION. PARIS, May 10.—Faldo, the works at which are stored the explosives used in the construction of the Mount St. Gothard tunnel, was yesterday the scene of a terrible and fatal disaster. A quantity of gun powder placed there ignited from some cause as yet unascertained, and exploded with a fearful report. Latest statements are that eighteen persons were killed outright, and many more seriously injured. Further details are expected.

ICELAND. OLD HECLA ON A TEAL. COPENHAGEN, May 10.—The eruption at Mount Hecla continues, and persons lately arriving from the vicinity represent the spectacle as one of unusual grandeur.

GERMANY. EXHIBITION AT DUSSELDORF. BERLIN, May 10.—The exhibition opened at Dusseldorf yesterday.

TIERED OF LIBERAL THWARTING. The Elbe navigation act was discussed in Parliament. Prince Bismarck made a long speech saying he regretted the reappearance of particularism. He said the free rights of Hamburg could not be taken without the attitude of the Centre party, and said that the only thing that made him retain office was the will of the Emperor. He was tired to death by Liberal thwARTING.

EMPEROR BACK IN BERLIN. BERLIN, May 10.—The Emperor William has returned to Berlin from Wiesbaden. His Majesty's health is apparently improved, and he seems to be in best of spirits. On arriving at the depot he was heartily cheered by the crowd assembled.

AFRICA. REBELLIOUS TOWN BURNED OUT. LONDON, May 10.—A dispatch from the west coast of Africa says that the British war vessels bombarded the town of Batings, the King having refused compensation for injuries inflicted on British subjects. Two marines were killed and the Commodore wounded while burning the town.

ANGRA. CATTLE AND CAMELS CARRIED OFF. LONDON, May 10.—A Calcutta dispatch says it is confidently expected that the British troops in Afghanistan will return to India at an early date.

SOME LUGH MARIES RAIDED THE BRITISH CATTLE ENCLOSURE at Jellalabad and carried off a thousand head of cattle and many camels.

SPAIN. TO CRUSH OUT VILLIBUSTERS. MADRID, May 10.—Journals here warmly commend action of the Spanish Government in conferring full power upon Governor General Blasco to suppress the Cuban Insurrection. They also urge the Government to treat all vessels and crews on filibustering expeditions exactly as the Virginians, and her crew.

COLORADO TROOPS SUGGESTED. In the Senate Marshals Concha and Jovella, and Generals Trenchard and Sanchez have declared in favor of lower duties on flour and corn. They also urge the creation of creole and negro battalions, to be officered by Spaniards, for the purpose of suppressing the new insurrection.

SILVER CREEK MINERS. NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE STAR. CLEVELAND, O., May 10.—Latest special to the Leader from Silver Creek says a company of militia from Wooster under Captain Clark arrived at midnight. The new shaft mine was at once surrounded by guards and skirmish lines thrown out in all directions, and parties of miners were signaling each other from the surrounding hills by rockets and firearms. Through the night skirmishing parties met several small bodies of men. It is known that two hundred strikers are in the immediate vicinity. The Massillon militia has arrived. Telegrams are received almost every hour from Cleveland urging Sheriff Coulter to send for more troops. Company D, Eighth Regiment of Massillon, has arrived by a special train, and with him Col. S. B. Smith and Attorney General Nash, both sent by Governor Foster's order.

LATER.—Information received from different mines indicates that the action of the authorities in bringing out the militia has quelled all riotous purposes. General Nash, Col. Smith and Sheriff Coulter have returned home, and the Massillon Guards ordered out by the Governor at Sheriff Coulter's request, will remain at Silver Creek till the latter deems their presence useless.

THE BIG WALK.

Preparations for the Contest—List of the Entries.

The entries for the coming Haverly-Englehardt pedestrian contest closed last Saturday night, and the list contains the names of some of the greatest runners and walkers of the world. There is hardly a doubt but that the race will be characterized by one of the sharpest and most decisive struggles that has ever taken place in the pedestrian arena, with such men as Albert Hughes, J. H. Harriman and other noted "ped" in the ring.

During the past week Mr. Englehardt has had a large force of workmen busily engaged in getting the lot, corner of Twelfth street and Central avenue, in proper trim, and by to-day or to-morrow the work of pitching the huge tent will begin. The canvas is the largest single one ever made, and is spoken of as being the most beautiful and complete in all its details, the mountings and appointments bordering on the regal.

A special feature will be the electric light, which is the same kind used on the Coney Island Beach during the past two seasons, and which turned that popular watering place into permanent day. It was also used on the excursion in steamer Republic, and the people in New York and Brooklyn could trace its passage clear from the North River to its moorings at Coney Island, so vivid was the electric light.

Mr. Englehardt has generously extended an invitation to the public to visit his tent next Saturday in order that they may have a thorough opportunity of viewing its appointments, &c., before the great rush commences next week.

Following is a complete list of the entries together with some brief notes about their records, &c.:

1. Robert Vint, Brooklyn, New York, winner of Englehardt's eighty-four-hour race at the Bellevue House, Cincinnati, in February last. Record, 432 miles. Also winner in many other well-contested races.
2. John Sullivan, Saratoga Springs, New York, winner of race No. 1 of the Haverly-Englehardt tournament series, at Providence, Rhode Island, with a record of 385½ miles in seventy-two hours, and prize winner in many other races. Sullivan is looked upon as one of the most promising men of the day.
3. James Albert, Philadelphia, Penn., winner of race No. 2 of the Haverly-Englehardt series at Philadelphia. Record, 412 miles in 72 hours, and with unsurpassed records in other competitions. Albert is beyond all question one of the most likely men to secure the world's championship to America.
4. Charles A. Harriman, Haverhill, Mass., winner of Englehardt's Providence and Newark races, second to Vint in Englehardt's Cincinnati race, third man in the first Astor belt race in America, &c.
5. Fred Krohn, New York. T. A. favorite German pedestrian. Record, 516 miles in six days. Competitor in the Astley belt and other important races.
6. Harry Howard, Glen Cove, L. I. Pedestrian and champion light-weight wrestler, master of the bounds of the Montclair Hunting Club, with a score of victories in all branches of athletic sports.
7. Patrick O'Brien, Covington, Ky. One of the representative pedestrians of this section whose gameness is beyond question.
8. John Hughes, New York. The famous long-distance runner, known as "Hughes, the lepper," winner of Englehardt's Baltimore race, and second to Albert in Philadelphia.
9. James McLeary, Alexandria, Scotland. Ex-champion one to ten-mile runner of Englehardt and Scotland.
10. Charles Hibbs, St. Louis, Mo. The handsome young Cherokee Indian, champion of Missouri.
11. S. M. Clark, Cincinnati Gymnasium. Entered and trained by Professor J. M. Cannon.
12. Pat Fitzgerald, Ravenswood, L. I., the celebrated "Johnny Wild," one of the noted and fleetest runners in America.
13. Chris Putz, Middletown, Ohio. Reported to have done 115 miles in 23½ last week in Germantown, Ohio. Defeated Grim Clark and others in a number of races. Putz is the eccentric-looking individual seen on the streets here yesterday in a semi-Gypsy-Indian costume. Stolen by the Vergennes Indians when a child, he lived with them sixteen years, and thus retains his nomadic habits.
14. George Chamberlain, Patrolia, Penn. The oil country phenomenon, a well known local champion.
15. "Doc" Sheaffer's "Unknown," Jersey City.
16. James Ryan, Ludlow, Ky.
17. William Pratt, New York.
18. Geo. Dufrane, New York.
19. David McKee, New York.
20. Ben Schoberg, Covington, Ky.
21. Thos. Bristo, Cleveland, Ohio.
22. Charles A. Rivers, Cincinnati, Ohio.
23. Dan Costigan, Plainfield, N. J.
24. Harvey's Unknown, New York.
25. Walter Emmerich, Cleveland, Ohio.
26. Herman Kalbfleisch, Williamsburg, N. Y.
27. Miller's Unknown, New York.
28. Brown's Apprentice, Stonington, Conn.
29. J. McG. McGill, St. Louis, Mo.
30. Jeremiah Callahan, Columbia, Ohio.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Cochran arrived in the city yesterday, having in charge David Flannely, Dick Weaseman, of Elliott County, Calvin Mayberry, of Rowan County, and W. Hollingsworth, of Carter County, all violators of the internal revenue laws.

The regular term of the United States Court convened to-day. Nothing of any special importance was done. The mot in docket was called, and the remainder of the morning was taken up in routine business. The Grand Jury will be sworn in to-morrow.

The Emerald Dramatic Club is rapidly gaining notoriety for the production of phenomena. Their latest is young Geo. O'Brien, whose characteristic performance last night elicited tremendous applause. George is good, and no mistake. The Emerald is full of good material.

Shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday an alarm of fire was rung from Box 18 on account of a small conflagration in the roof of the old brick next to Turner Hall, caused by a defective flue. The damage amounted to about $20. The building is owned by Jacob Lang and occupied by a colored family.

The remains of the late W. T. Hewitt were interred at Spring Grove Cemetery yesterday afternoon, the funeral services taking place at St. Paul's P. E. Church at 1 p. m. The funeral cortege, under the control of Charles Donnelly, was large and imposing, and the grief of friends pronounced and sincere.

Mr. D. Ruttle was thrown from his buggy on Pike street, near Russell yesterday afternoon and painfully bruised. He had stopped to let a companion alight, when the milk wagon of Cornelius ran away at the heels of a frightened horse and collided with Mr. Ruttle's vehicle, breaking it up and throwing him out.

MARLBOROUGH LICENSES.—Geo. H. Tubbe, aged 25 and May H. Klenstrup, aged 24, both of Covington; James Moonsay, aged 23, and Maggie Robinson, aged 21, both of Cincinnati; Clemens Tepe, aged 22, of Cincinnati; and May C. Gastrecht, aged 21, of Covington; James R. Hamilton, aged 24, and Annie Smith, aged 21, both of Pendleton County.

Herman Kassarow, for many years a confectioner and baker, at 319 Scott street, was drowned in the Ohio River at Riverside last Thursday, as mentioned in the local news the following day under the name of Kassarman. It seems that he had gone to take a bath to spend the day with his sister, Mrs. Duhme, and it is supposed was suddenly stricken with paralysis, fell into the water and was drowned.

Dr. DeGryder, the martyr, still holds the fort at Castle Willenbrink. One of the Grand Jurymen asked him to-day if he would testify, and the good old Doctor was immovable and still stuck out and will fight it out on his line if it takes all summer. Col. Alex. Davezac presented him with six bottles of wine to-day, but the Jailer would not allow them to be taken into the jail, as it is against the rules.

Hugh McShane and Patsy Farrell had a misunderstanding yesterday which led to a fight. Farrell bit off a piece of McShane's nose, which made him furious and he started for Farrell, and the latter ran into the bridge office and claimed the protection of Mr. Frazier, the collector. McShane had his knife in his hand and accidentally cut Frazier. They were arrested and bound over to the Grand Jury by the Mayor this morning.

CRIMINAL COURT.—Hon. John W. Stevenson and Hon. Wm. E. Arthur reported favorably on Messrs. R. P. Ernst, Richard Scott, H. C. and Kelly Brent, applicants to practice law, and they were duly sworn in. In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Theo. Leverman, for violating the Sunday Law, the demurrer was sustained, and the indictment was dismissed. The case goes to the Court of Appeals.

The following, composed by the Scans, was sung by George O'Brien at the Emerald Dramatic Club last night:

"I am Cooper Case of the Goodson gang,
I know all the crooks;
The girls they sign as I pass by,
On account of my good looks."

The gold watch and chain raffled off for the benefit of Mrs. Cull was won by Mrs. George Schildt.

POLICE COURT.—May C. Berry was ripe yesterday, and was plucked by Lieutenant Linneman. She hails from the moral town of Newport, and was sent to jail to serve out a fine of $13 for disorderly conduct. Charles Crow and Ben. Quinn, two imported drunks, were fined $4 each, for importing Ohio whisky into Kentucky. William Parton and Steve Wallace had a little pugilistic entertainment on Sixth street yesterday and were fined $8 each. Ed. Dulaney did a barabarasact on a young boy named Barber and had his case continued. Wm. Burns knocked a cordon down yesterday and had his case continued. The arresting officers were McGrew, Linneman, Crockett, Haines, Healy, Bolan, Barton, Temple, Goodson and O'Donnally.

NEWSPAPERS. Capt. Jas. T. Williamson is lying quite ill at St. Anthony's Hospital.

Six new additions were made to the membership of the Columbia-street Presbyterian Church yesterday.

The following are among the number from this city who went to hear Indol Bob last night: Hon. A. S. Berry and wife, Will Cotten and lady, Dr. Fred. Davis, Councillman John Speckman, Will Alexander, Henry Wise, Dr. Jones and H. J. Redfield.

Miss Lizzie Dollar, who lives at 159 Saratoga street, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon. She was engaged in cleaning a pair of kid gloves with rose oil, and went too near the stove, which caused the oil to ignite, and before she could get the gloves from her hands they were badly burned.

Struck his head on the float, and his legs dropping down between the boat and the float. Mr. Frank Wentworth, who was close at hand, jerked him out in an instant, but not before the lower portion of his body was badly crushed, the boat having already nearly jammed up against the landing.

Steve Weymer, an employee of the tow-bow Mount Clare, very narrowly escaped being crushed to death at a late hour last night. He with three others, all under the influence of drink, were crossing the ferry to this side when Weymer walked forward, and getting too close to the edge he fell forward as the boat was about to land and

During the services at Grace M. E. Church yesterday, the very handsome sum of $2,200, was subscribed, which places the church entirely out of debt. Prominent among the members who subscribed large amounts were Messrs. W. C. Standish, Joseph and Wm. Scarlett, W. H. Bryan, F. A. Stine, J. K. Stone, Dr. F. J. Lock, John Boyle and J. J. Raibe.

Mr. Charles Martin, one of our well-known Newport boys, and Miss Laura Richert, a prominent society belle, stole a march on their friends, by having the nuptial knot tied about day-break this morning. The carriage containing the happy pair was driven to the residence of 'Squire Fuller, on Madison street, about 5 o'clock, and the good-natured Justice aroused, and on learning their mission, made all the haste possible to supply their wants. The young bride looked the picture of happiness, and as fresh and beautiful as a rose budding on a delightful May morning; and the groom, with such a bride, to say that he was happy is but putting it mild. After the ceremony the couple were driven to Cincinnati, where they took a train East on a wedding tour.

The temperance meeting at Smalley's Hall yesterday afternoon was not a success. The hall was not more than half filled and none of the speakers announced to be present put in an appearance. Mr. Collins, prominently known through Ohio in connection with the temperance cause, was present and made an eloquent appeal to those present in behalf of the cause he so ardently labors for. He was compelled, however, to acknowledge the lukewarmness of the people of Newport in the cause of temperance. The last was passed around and the pitiable sum of $1 taken up, although the speaker announced that his expenses in coming here amounted to $3. Mr. Collins spoke at Bellevue last night.

ADDITIONAL SUBURBAN.

NEW ORLEANS MEAD, C. O. sparkling and refreshing, at Goetz's drug store.

Father Wecker, late of the Bellevue Church, spent Sunday night in this city.

Saturday night Charley Beach, the conductor, incurred the enmity of Everett Miles and C. Rodocker by putting them off a car, and yesterday they renewed hostilities by beating bowdler at the start. Charley, who means business right from the start, brought out his revolver and blazed away at young Miles, narrowly missing his right arm. At night of the weapon of war, it is stated that both of Beach's assailants fled and did not renew the contest.

The funeral of the late Rev. Frederick Elwell, the venerable rector of St. John's Protestant Episcopal Church, took place from the Church yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large concourse of people. The Rev. W. M. Pettis, of St. Paul's, Newport, preached the sermon, dwelling on the noble Christian life of this old servant of the Church, who died in the harness, receiving the death stroke in the very altar which he had honored with several years of usefulness. The pall bearers were Messrs. T. S. Noble, John Vine, M. Doisey, Charles L. Gibson, A. R. Burton and R. Albert Evergreen Cemetery. The church was appropriately draped in mourning, the baptismal font and organ being decorated with flowers. The mourning drapery will remain in the church for thirty days.

John Wardlow, book-keeper for Wilson & McCally's tobacco works, met with a painful accident Saturday night about 12 o'clock. He went out of the house towards the well to get a pitcher of water when he noticed a tramp lying asleep upon their porch. He notified the fellow to leave, whereupon the tramp drew a revolver and fired at young Wardlow the ball taking effect in the muscle of the right arm. Surgeon Sutphin probed for the ball and pronounced the wound not serious.

HOME CITY. The owner of a run with the initials "A. E. S." is wanted by Mr. Joseph Seil. Joe found he pin last week, and fearing burglars desired to get rid of it.

We are to have another campaign to fill a vacancy in Council. There are at present only two candidates—Fred. Daner and W. L. Stevenson. The election will be held next Saturday, and we may have four or five other candidates announced in the meantime.

If you want to get into trouble just ask Fred. Cross or Tony Keating why they are called the "Great American Bee Hunters." It is rumored that a drygoods box was purchased by some one in their neighborhood to catch a swarm of bees, and after dividing it into apartments and obtaining a step ladder, they succeeded in capturing about 2,000—May bugs, with all the honey that they had produced during the past winter.

POLICE COURT.

Monday's Massacre of Mischievous Makers.

Mary Russell was charged with drunkenness. "I wasn't drunk," she yelled; "I've spent four years already in the Work-house for nothing. I can't walk along the streets without being arrested." "Escort the lady down stairs," remarked the Judge quietly. "Three months," and then Mary let her tongue loose, but before she could blast His Honor to any great extent Charley Gould jammed his hand in her mouth and kept her quiet until she was dungeoned below.

Mary Cartwell was also charged with drunkenness. Jacob Hein, the watchman of the Eighth Street Park, appeared as the prosecuting witness against her. He acted so crazy in court that the judge became disgusted with him and ordered him to sit down. Mary was fined $3 and costs.

Edward Connerion and Edward Moss, charged with grand larceny, had their cases continued until next Saturday.

Levi Schaller, the man shot in the leg by Officer Connelley last Saturday evening, before the Court this morning charged with assault with intent to rob. His case was continued until a week from to-morrow.

M. Mitchell, a chance-game cigar dealer at No. 281 Vine street, was arraigned for exhibiting gaming devices, and had his case continued until next Saturday.

James Torrence, for drunkenness, got thirty days.

Kate Morris was given a boarding-house for thirty days. For some time past she has been stopping on the levee.

Wm. Wilkerson came up from Greensburg, Ind., yesterday morning on an excursion train. In the afternoon Officer Connelley found him laid out on a cellar door on Main street. Cincinnati beer got him down. He was fined $3 and costs.

Anthony McGurran, James Wilson and Martin Crane were charged with disorderly conduct, and had their cases continued until next Thursday. McGurran and Crane raised a big fight at the corner of Sixth and Broadway yesterday afternoon, which at one time threatened to develop into a riot. Lieut. Montgomery and Officer Delehanty waltzed into the crowd and would have been beat to death if they had not drawn their guns and fired into the air which had the effect of keeping the crowd off of them.

Andrew Bannan got three months for drunkenness.

William Heinrich, charged with embezzling money from R. H. Thornbury, had his case continued until the 13th instant.
